

ERIC AROCA

LIVE THE LIFE • LEADERSHIP

Eric Aroca's Bio

Eric is an Author, award winning speaker, master storyteller and corporate trainer. Eric is helping organizations and individual to have a purpose driven approach to create a culture that will encourage leadership, personal development and inspire them to live the life they have always imagined.

Everyone has a story to tell. What sets Eric Aroca apart from the rest is an ability to weave inspiration into attention-grabbing speeches that are nothing short of a verbal joyride. Eric uses humor, insight and masterful storytelling skills to captivate his audience in such a way that his message will stay with his listeners long after they have left the building. Eric will inspire your group to reach their goals and dreams. His entertaining and motivating style will encourage people of all ages to learn more, do more and become more.

Eric married his high school sweetheart and together they have five children and one handsome grandson. Eric loves bass fishing, photography and reading. He currently reside in Spanish Fork, Utah.